

With the career evening "Wege zur Professur - Erfahrungsberichte von Neuberufenen" (Career paths to a professorship - experience reports of newly appointed professors ") on 17 May, we would like to introduce individual career paths in academia to you. The career evening allows a view into personal experiences of newly appointed professors from University and University of Applied Sciences.

Three guests will talk about their personal career paths: Mrs. Prof. Marz is professor for Bioinformatics and High Throughput Analysis at Friedrich Schiller University. Newly appointed at FSU is Mr. Prof. Gröschner. From April, he is holding the chair of School Pedagogics and Didactics.

After the event, there is the possibility of a direct exchange with the speakers at a get-together including cold drinks and snacks. The event language will be German. You can find further information and the registration here.

Time and place: 17.05.16, 18.00-20.00 h, first floor "Auditorium" in the house "Zur Rosen", Johannisstraße 13
