

On 22 October, the European final of the Coimbra Group Three Minute Thesis Competition will take place! In this competition, doctoral candidates from various disciplines present their dissertation on just one slide and in only three minutes. Once a year this competition is also held in Jena. This year, three doctoral candidates from other universities made it to the finals - unfortunately, our winner is not among them.

The final will be broadcast online on 22 October from 10.00h to 11.00h on the YouTube channel of the Coimbra Group. You can watch the final competition live here.
